

H.C.R.2024 Bulletin: Day 2 --- Thursday, October 3rd, Cloudy

Today is the 2nd day of H.C.R.2024, and again, we enjoyed attendance of a large number of visitors. Here is the preliminary number of visitors for the 2nd day.

Thursday, October 3      42,805 visitors / Weather: Cloudy
=====

* Breakdown of visitors by trade will be promptly reported after the exhibition.

The following shows the cumulative number of visitors for 2 days.

Date	Weather	# of Visitors	Cumulative Total
Oct. 2 (Wed)	Sunny	38,322	—
Oct. 3 (Thu)	Cloudy	42,805	81,137

Just as on the first day, the venue was filled with many people who had been waiting for the exhibition. The venue had been busy all day with a lot of people stopping at exhibitors' booths, participating in seminars, trying out exhibits, and so on.

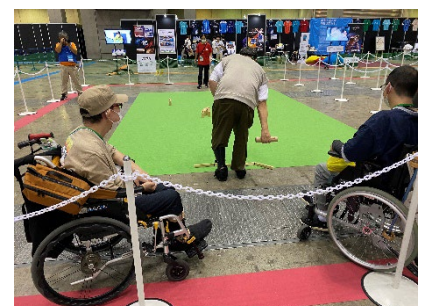

In the morning at Seminar A room, we had the honor of welcoming Ms. Anna Tenje, the Minister for Older People and Social Welfare of Sweden, who attended and gave a greeting, and lectures were held on the trends in dementia Measures in Sweden and Japan.

The international symposium in the afternoon featured reports on the situation surrounding welfare in Asian countries, making it a meaningful day that epitomized the international exhibition.

There is one more day left for this exhibition.

H.C.R.2024 is the exhibition where you can “see,” “touch,” and “try on” exhibits.

We are looking forward to seeing you at the site. Please make good use of H.C.R.Web2024 as well!!
